THE CATTLE REVIVAL ON MONDAY

Lacked Staying Qualities, and Price Back to old Figure.

SHEEP VERY SLOW, HOGS STEADY

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, }

Through receipts of cattle last week were the largest for six months past. As will be seen by the accompanying report through half of last week. It appears that there is also a decline in local receipts of 240 head, as compared with last week. The light run and a special order from Baltimore for export cattle served to stimulate markets on Monday, and prices advanced 10 per cent oh export grades. The advance did not hold after the special order was filled. Markets drifted back to last week's figures and remain there up to date.

The advance did not hold after the special order was filled. Markets drifted back to last week's figures and remain there up to date. Outside of the sales referred to there has been no improvement in prices. For good butcher and shipping cattle, weighing 1,400 pounds and upward the highest price was plaid for a few bunches of export cattle on special order. As good cattle were sold on Tuesday a shade below $4.00. The revisal reported on Mouday was lacking in staying qualities. As the season advances veal calves come in more freely and prices are tending toward a lower level.

Sharp Rally in Wheat, May Option Leading the Procession-Corn Ensy and Oats Stronger - Hog Products Still Unsettled.

Chicago—The wheat market developed more life and animation to-day and trading was active, centuring principally in May. Yes-terday there were symptoms of a tightening of the market, and to-day when the shorts under-took to cover they found but little wheat for receipts this week were little above onehalf of last week. WORKING A REALESTATE MYSTERY movement, but nobody denied that somethi big was in the air. One delegation of dealer took observations on Diamond street and he mysterious consultations afterward. A pro-inent capitalist was one of the party, and w very eloquent in stating or explaining so thing. One of the oldest dealers on Fou avenue paid a hurried visit to the East Est accompanied by a stranger, and another we over to the Southside, where he was closed for some time with an iron manufactur

Revival of the Sorghum Industry That May Help Western Pennsylvania.

That something was up was certain, but w it was, and is, is as much of a puzzle as authorship of the letters of Junius. The new stories added to the Lewis bl contain 100 rooms. Although not completit is said that all of them have been engafor offices at good prices. Property in that cality is in demand at $3,500 a foot, and on two deals at those figures are in progress. The average price for property on Fifth avenue, between Grant and Market, is about $5,000

There are 110 iron bridges in the county making (excluding half lengths of three inter-county bridges) 6,554.3 lineal feet, or one and twenty-two hundredths miles of iron superstructures. These bridges were erected at a cost of, in round numbers, $280,000. If the county roads were in as good shape as the bridges, it would be better for the business of Pittsburg. As it is, it is impossible at certain seasons of the year to haul farm products to the city. Farmers have good cause to kick against this neglect of their interests.

A Butler county farmer, just from Kansas, said yesterday, that the manufacture of sugar from sorghum cane is becoming an important industry in that State. The production last year was $00,000 pounds of sugar and 300,000 gallons of molasses—both of superior quality. Before the war sorghum was extensively cultivated in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, and was a profitable crop. Why it was abandoned has not been satisfactorily accounted for. The But-ler county granger thinks so highly of sorghum that he proposes to devote several acres to its cultivation this season. Sorghum has been grown to some extent in Western Pennsylvania, but seems to have been given up. It is too valuable a crop to be ignored.

According to a correspondent of the Philadelphia Record, oil land in this State is becoming very scarce, and territory which is at all promising is being steadily bought up. The great oil fields of Butler, Clarion. Venango, Warren and McKean counties are now worked exclusively for "second crop wells," that is to say, small wells in oid territory that a tew years ago would hardly be accepted as wells at all. Washington county continues to be the richest picking for the oil hunter, and the deep and expensive drilling is no discouragement to him. The most activity in the matter of working over an oil field is in Venango county, According to a correspondent of the Phila-delphia Record, oil land in this State is becom-

A BIG MISTAKE.

The Longs in Oil Suffer From Being Too Confident. Those who had been on the long side of the oil market for several days, being charmed with the idea of getting their stuff carried flat or with a premium, and being confident that the market would not sell down, failed to take advantage of a spurt to 92% yesterday and still have it on their hands, besides paying 25c

The fragrant and economical toby, so dear to the heart of the Pittsburg smoker, is to be given a trial in Mexica, an Allegheny City manufacturer having received an order from Tampic for several thousand, as an experiment. This is the beginning of what may develope into a large trade in this luxury. Who knows but the toby may take the place of the cigarette in the affections of the fair senoritas of the land of the Montezumas?

Unless signs go for maught, something unusual transpired in the real estate market yesterday. Persistent pumping failed to elect any information as to the significance of the movement, but nobody denied that something big was in the air. One delegation of dealers

There was an attempt to break the Grangers again in the early trading, and Burlington did display considerable weakness, being, in fact, the weak spot in the list, but the others were firmly held and the attempt was given up. The purchasing for the long account later became more pronounced, prices beginning to creep up under the increased demand, early sellers began to cover and the movement became strong and reached to all portions of the list. BOTTOM IS CLEAR OF EGG MARKET.

General Depression in Cereals---Millfeed Drifts Down.

A WATER HAUL AT GRAIN EXCHANGE

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURG DISPATCH, THURSDAY, March 21, 1888. Country Produce-Jobbing Prices. Bottom is clear out of egg market. Not for many a year have prices been as low this early in the season. Job-lots were sold yesterday at 12%c, and there are produce men to-day who would be glad to unload at 12c. At the Panhandle freight depot there were in the neighborhood of 3,000 cases yesterday from Tennessee on which there will be a loss to Pittsburg dealers of not less than 2c par dezers at present dealers of not less than 2c per dozen at present prices. The trouble with the trade is that home hens have been doing such good work in the past few weeks of balmy weather. Produce men seem fated this season to be losers to the last. Old vegetable stock is being displaced by last. Old vegetable stock is being displaced by new. The garbage pile is absorbing the expected profits on onions and apples. And now the early spring weather comes in to blast hopes of profit on hen fruit and dairy products. Verily, the winter and spring of 1889 have been thoroughly disappointing to produce men, whether on the farm or in the warehouse. Transactions outside of the Exchange must be large or there are large accumulations of stock. These outside deals are made by concessions on the part of sellers. The buyer has things very much in his favor. Stuff is in much larger supply than money. Millfeed is particularly weak, and, as will be seen, our quotations are reduced. Oats, too, show drooping tendencies. Flour jobbers report a slight improvement. There are more inquiries of late, and once the buil and bear tussle is over, and prices settle to a permanent level, an active movement will undoubtedly be inaugurated.

"I am in my 64th year. Have been afflicted it several ways—could not sleep, had no appetite, no courage, low spirits. I commenced using Paine's Celery Compound, and felt relief from the third day after using it. I now have a good appetite and can sleep well. My spirits and courage are almost like those of a young man."

S. C. Kinkaid, D. D., Gonzales, La.
